

C2 Level Sentence Completion MCQs

1.

The journalist was accused of deliberately _____ the facts to protect powerful interests.

- a) elucidating
 - b) corroborating
 - c) obfuscating
 - d) amplifying
-

2.

Despite appearing harmless at first, the policy had a _____ effect on small businesses over time.

- a) transient
 - b) benign
 - c) pernicious
 - d) negligible
-

3.

His speech was filled with technical jargon and _____, leaving the audience confused rather than informed.

- a) candor
 - b) brevity
 - c) circumlocution
 - d) lucidity
-

4.

The research paper explored a _____ area of linguistics rarely discussed outside academic circles.

- a) ubiquitous
 - b) conventional
 - c) recondite
 - d) accessible
-

5.

Living abroad placed her in a _____ state, caught between her native culture and a new identity.

- a) static
 - b) peripheral
 - c) liminal
 - d) definitive
-

6.

When pressed for a definitive answer, the executive chose to _____, avoiding legal accountability.

- a) assert
 - b) disclose
 - c) concede
 - d) equivocate
-

7.

The professor's _____ on postcolonial ethics captivated students for nearly two hours.

- a) anecdote
 - b) synopsis
 - c) disquisition
 - d) aside
-

8.

Their professional bond strengthened through daily interaction and sheer _____.

- a) divergence
 - b) isolation
 - c) propinquity
 - d) anonymity
-

9.

His management style, rooted in _____ traditions, struggled to adapt to a modern workforce.

- a) progressive
 - b) innovative
 - c) antediluvian
 - d) futuristic
-

10.

She accepted the _____ of a volatile career with quiet determination and grace.

- a) privileges
 - b) constants
 - c) vicissitudes
 - d) assurances
-